Alfred Reed

Claude T. Smith

Karel Husa

Internationally Acclaimed Guest Composers and Conductors

Alfred Reed

Alfred Reed is a native New Yorker. Born in Manhattan on January 25, 1921, he started studying trumpet at the age of ten and subsequently studied theory and harmony with John Sacco and Paul Yartin.

After three years at the Radio Workshop in New York, he enlisted in the Air Force during World War II and was assigned to the 529th Army Air Force Band. During his three-and-a-half years with this organization, he produced nearly 100 compositions and arrangements for band before leaving the Service.

His wide experience as conductor of the Baylor Symphony Orchestra, editor at a major publishing company, and as professor of theory-composition uniquely qualifies Dr. Reed as an outstanding music educator.

With over 200 published works for concert band, orchestra, chorus, and various smaller chamber music groups, Dr. Reed is one of the nation's most prolific and frequently performed composers. In addition to winning the Luria Prize in 1959, he has been awarded some 52 commissions to date.

His guest conducting and clinics have taken him to forty states, Japan, Europe, Canada, Mexico, and South America. Appointed in the fall of 1980, Dr. Reed continues to serve as conductor of the University of Miami Symphonic Wind Ensemble.

Claude T. Smith

Claude T. Smith, a native of Missouri, received his education at Central Methodist College, Fayette, Missouri, and at the University of Kansas. He has composed extensively in the areas of instrumental and choral music.

Mr. Smith has over 110 published works, and has composed solos for such artists as "Doc" Severinsen, Dale Underwood, Brian Bowman, Warren Covington, and Rich Matteson.

He has received numerous prestigious commissions including works for The U.S. Air Force Band; The "President's Own," The U.S. Marine Band; and the U.S. Navy Band. His composition "Flight" has been adopted as the "Official March" of the National Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institution.

Mr. Smith is active as a clinician and guest conductor throughout the United States, Canada, and Europe, and has also received many awards for his contributions to music education and for his work in composition, including an official proclamation by the Missouri House of Representatives, the prestigious Orpheus Award presented by Phi Mu Alpha Fraternity, and the Distinguished Alumni Award from Central Methodist College. He has been a frequent recipient of the ASCAP Composer's Award, has served as president of the Missouri Music Educators Association, and is a member of American Bandmaster's Association.

Karel Husa

Pulitzer Prize-winning composer

Karel Husa, Pulitzer Prize winner in Music, is an internationally-known composer, conductor, and Kappa Alpha Professor at Cornell University. An American citizen since 1959, Husa was born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, on August 7, 1921. After completing studies at the Prague Conservatory and later the Academy of Music, he went to Paris where he received diplomas from the Paris National Conservatory and the Ecole normale de musique. Among his teachers were Arthur Honegger, Nadia Boulanger, Jaroslav Ridky, and Conductor Andre Cluytens. Husa has conducted major world orchestras in Paris, London, Hamburg, Brussels, Prague, Stockholm, Oslo, Zurich, Hong Kong, New York, Boston, Washington, Cincinnati, Rochester, Buffalo, Syracuse, and Louisville.

Mr. Husa won the first biennial Sudler Competition and in addition to a handsome honorarium, he was granted the Medal of the Sousa Order of Merit.

His latest work, a forty-minute Concerto for Orchestra, commissioned by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and Zubin Mehta, was performed in September in a series of concerts at the Philharmonic Hall, Lincoln Center.

The conductor...Now in his thirtieth year of association with the Middle Tennessee State University Band, Joseph Smith, organizer and host conductor of the Wind Ensemble Clinic, continues to provide activities designed to reward excellence in young musicians and to bring to the university and community visiting musicians the calibre of Claude Smith, Vaclav Nelhybel, Karel Husa, and Alfred Reed. Director Smith, who maintains an active role in the profession has appeared in twenty-seven states, Canada, and Mexico as guest conductor, clinician, or adjudicator. Most recently he was included in the current International Biographical Dictionary, Cambridge, England; was featured in the School Musician for his contributions to bands in America; and received the 1985 Distinguished Alumni Award from Middle Tennessee State University.

The Murfreesboro Community Concert band was organized in 1984 for area musicians who had played in high school and college bands but were now without a performance outlet for their years of instrumental experience. The band is composed of area band directors and local professionals such as doctors, salespeople, accountants, university students, and teachers. Meeting weekly, these men and women continue their enjoyment of band music with a degree of proficiency which will astound the listener.

The band enjoys a most enviable reputation from musicians as well as from "the man on the street." While the men and women in the band are serious about their music, the group's concerts are designed for a variety of tastes and the enjoyment of all. A typical concert program elicits a variety of responses: toe tapping to a hoedown, melancholia to a Stephen Foster folk song, sultry sensuousness to a Wagnerian love song, or rousing excitement to "William Tell Overture." During a recent concert, one highly-excited listener jumped up clapping wildly and shouting "Bravo!" in response to "Stars and Stripes Forever"—only to discover that the pause was not the ending.

This community organization is made possible through the cooperation of the Music Department of Middle Tennessee State University—Dr. Tom Naylor, department chairman; Dr. Sam Ingram, president.

The All-State Symphonic Band is a direct result of the success enjoyed by the conference after its inception in 1986. Encouraged by those in attendance, the conference was expanded to include a second organization comprising "All-State and Clinic Band musicians." We were most fortunate in acquiring Dr. Alfred Reed, an internationally-known composer-conductor with over six hundred compositions to his credit, as director of the ensemble.

The All-State Wind Ensemble is an elite group of outstanding high school musicians from Tennessee, Kentucky, and Alabama who represent the very best in our secondary school instrumental programs. The name of the ensemble was chosen to reflect the fact that each member has performed or has been selected to perform with their respective "All-State Bands." Middle Tennessee State is proud to afford these students this rare opportunity to perform with the very best.
